Francis W. Parker—Progress With Quality

Francis W. Parker School, founded in Mission Hills in 1912 by Mrs. Clara Sturgis Johnson and her husband William, was the first independent, non-denominational, coeducational institution in San Diego. The roots go deep into the city's history. The school has contributed many of San Diego's top leaders, and many of the old-line establishment families of San Diego have attended Francis W. Parker.

Mrs. Clara Sturgis Johnson named the school after one she had seen in Chicago which had impressed her. It was named for Colonel Francis Wayland Parker, the famed educational philosopher, who founded what is now the University of Chicago's department of education.

The Francis W. Parker School of San Diego was established on Colonel Parker's three principles: "The needs of society determine the work of the school. The supreme need of society is good citizenship. The purpose of the school is to present conditions for growth into ideal citizenship."

The school served as a model for San Diego's public schools, demonstrating that a school curriculum should fit the needs of a growing child, develop his latent possibilities, and develop his capacity for independent thinking, co-operation and good citizenship.

Today, there is a strong emphasis on the fundamentals in basic academic subjects, thus preparing students for admission to colleges. However, Parker School still stresses the development of the entire individual.

There have been great changes in the size of enrollment and the location of the school. Parker School opened in December, 1912, in a cottage on Randolph and Washington Streets, for children of the kindergarten and primary grades. In 1913, it moved to the Spanish-styled building designed by William Templeton Johnson, on Randolph Street and Arbor Drive.

A group of parents bought Parker School from the Johnsons in 1941, so that today the school is owned by the parents of the student body. A Board of Directors elected by the parents directs the policies and appoints the administration.

In the 1950's enrollment skidded and the school was in debt. Under the leadership of Headmaster J. Rollin Grant Ed.D., the school began to grow again. Beginning in 1966, a high school was added a year at a time. Under Headmaster Douglas C. Crone Ed. D., the school outgrew the Mission Hills campus. The forty-three acre San Miguel Boys' School campus in Linda Vista was purchased. In 1971, the high school moved to the Linda Vista campus while the elementary school remained in Mission Hills.

Because of further growth and expanded curriculum, Parker is being enlarged and improved. As Parker approaches its 67th birthday, it is a vital part of the independent school scene in San Diego.

Our Turn

We are presenting CAVALCADE 1979 with a theme of progress. Progress has always been characteristic of past years, but this year it has been outstanding.

The most obvious marks of progress are seen in the addition of new classrooms and a new girls' locker room. Plans are also underway for the construction of a new Fine Arts building to meet the needs of a varied curriculum and the future.

Such an environment of progress has influenced the direction that the CAVALCADE has taken. We extend a special thanks to Col. and Mrs. Dave Severance and Dr. and Mrs. Lewis Palmer for making possible the full color senior section this year. A pat on the back goes to Lisa Mumby for her innovative copy and relentless dedication, and to Karen Hirr for her diligence in helping to raise money through advertising—the most ads sold in CAVALCADE history.

We are especially grateful to our advisor, Mrs. Spain, for her willingness to allow the changes that have been made in the CAVALCADE.

Our co-editorship has left us with many memories: Summer planning sessions . . . COLOR! ("We'll be famous") . . . recruiting staff members . . . frantic searches for pictures and copy that we KNEW existed . . . problems in the darkroom . . . Sharon's loyalty . . . work binges on Saturdays—Is it time for lunch yet? . . . typing and re-(and re-) typing senior blurbs . . . they call themselves "professionals?" . . . Mr. Corbin is SO sneaky . . . if it won't fit—fake it! . . . NO trapped white space and NO looking off the pages . . . where's the Executive Type book? . . . lay-outs under the crystal chandelier—we've got elegance! . . . Pass the white-out!! . . . Born and raised in Maine, she graduated from Maine Central Institute. She received her B.A. at Eastern Nazarene College, Mass. She attended U.C.S.D. and San Diego State. She taught at the Polytechnic School in Pasadena before coming to Parker in 1973.

After playing "hard-to-get" for quite a while, she finally came to her senses and married Robert Mark Corbin on April 30, 1971. Six years later, on Thanksgiving, their son Robbie, a five pound, seven ounce "little turkey" was born. He has since become the idol of the senior class, and is always affectionately known as "The Kid."

When asked her feelings about the Class of '79, she is sure to say that she will miss them after they graduate because she has grown very close to them during her years at Parker.

When the senior class is asked about their feelings toward Mrs. Corbin, they are certain to say that she has been one of the outstanding influences and inspirations in their lives. She has become a good friend to all of them, and has helped many with problems in and out of school. However, what most endears her to all of them is her love of humanity, her enthusiasm in the classroom, her stories about "The Kid," and of course, her famous "A-ha! A-ha!"

It is with great pride and a twinge of sadness in leaving, that we dedicate this CAVALCADE 1979 to our beloved Mrs. Corbin.

Parker's Board of Directors took on the monumental task of getting plans, taking bids, obtaining permits, etc. for the Gildred Foundation Building, The Physicians' Science Lab, and the new girls' locker room. The new four-room class building will accommodate up to 85 students.

Raising funds for the new construction is another of their projects. Bob Westlund and Diana Midlam were hired as fund-raisers by the board. They worked in alumni relations by publishing the Alumni News Letter. At press time, Westlund and Midlam were planning a capital fund-raising drive.

Parker land below the main facility was sold in 1978. During the school year, condominiums were constructed on the valley property.

Keeping the Wheels in Motion . . .

Dr. Douglas C. Crone, headmaster, has constantly strived to keep Parker the quintessential private school. His capable leadership, unfailing optimism, and foresight have kept Parker a vital and growing school. His nine years as chief administrator have won him immeasurable respect from the faculty and student body.

Mrs. George Smith, assistant to the headmaster, manages to remain calm under the pressure of being second in command. Her trouble-shooting keeps the Parker ship sailing smoothly. A Parker alumna, she is a loyal Lancer.

Mr. Bennett, dean of boys, teaches math and is Director of Athletics. As Director of Athletics, he is responsible for setting up Lancer sporting events.

A busy Mrs. Barrett, the new dean of girls, also teaches eighth grade English and creative writing. In order to see the high school girls "under pleasant conditions" she advises the Senior High Girls' League.

Pat Helwig, Jan Rogers, and Lisa Hume comprise Parker's efficient secretarial staff. Their services range from taking in and disbursing money to bandaging knees. With ease, they answer the phones and keep student cumulative record cards up to date.

Smiling Crews Give Service

The bus drivers, under the direction of Dan Zatarain, are friendly men and women who safely transport students to and from school each day. They are capable, patient people.

A good meal in a relaxing atmosphere is provided by the cafeteria manager and her fellow cooks. Not only do they offer the students and faculty a well-balanced, delicious noon-day meal, but they also pack lunches for trips and serve scrumptious treats for dances and parties.

It seems the sprinklers are always on, as Skip Wyman and his team of custodians keep the landscape looking splendid year-round. Cleaning rooms and facilities, setting up for programs and parties, and straightening up after events are other ways they make the Parker campus comfortable and enjoyable.

Lisa Hume (below) is seen three days a week serving as transportation secretary. She is also a bookkeeper in the accounting department. Lisa dabbles in other jobs such as substituting and assisting school drama productions.

They Gladly Learn and Teach . . .

"And he would gladly learn, and gladly teach." These sentiments, expressed in Chaucer's CANTERBURY TALES, where the Oxford Cleric is discussed, are those reflected by Parker's faculty. The desire to teach is magnified by the desire to learn, and this brings an urgency to the realm of academics, and an excitement to the world of physical education that is not limited to this time or this place. It has reverberations that echo throughout the year and into various colleges throughout the country.

The Parker faculty represent, collectively, those for whom education is a way to excellence, and that way is contagious.

D.C. Remembers . . .

CLAIRE "like a ship passing quietly in the night " . . . ERIC's Ivy League applications . . . TIM always saying, "Hello! Dr. Crone" . . . BARRIE's enthusiasm for Parker . . . JEFF's sports car cover . . . LISA & Sourap! . . . MATT "boxing" at the IBIS . . . COURTNEY's saying, "You know you love us!" . . . GORDON's moustache . . . SONNY & Monica! . . . KRISTIN & St. John's . . . MADELEINE's competitive desire . . . The bow & arrow marksmanship of WARREN . . . SCOTT's outfielding . . . CATE & Richard! . . . SUE's Americanization . . . LIZ's good thoughts about everybody . . . DEBI's fashion analysis . . . GLYNNETTE's phone calls to the "Redhead" . . . BETH's loyalty to Parker . . . CAROL, sociology and the primates . . . RAMON's pitching . . . DESIREE's appreciation of college counselling . . . ADRIANNE's return from Massachusetts . . . KATIE's trip to Europe . . . JAY in "Godspell" . . . GEORGE's debut in "Arsenic & Old Lace" . . . KAREN's National Merit Honor . . . STEVE's hairdo . . . NINA's letter to the Board . . . "FRED's" subtle leadership . . . KATHY's boyfriend . . . CATHERINE's rowing & soccer . . . JULIE's smile . . . ALEX's football stance . . . LAURA's dancing . . . CHRIS' pep rallies . . . RANDY's just making it! . . . WENDY's shyness . . . JOHN's DeMolay leadership . . . BARBIE's driving skills . . . ANNE's sewing ability . . . TRACY and her chewing gum . . .

Taking this class collectively, one thought emerges from these individual reflections: They have made me feel like something special (having known and learned with them) because they are, and always will be.

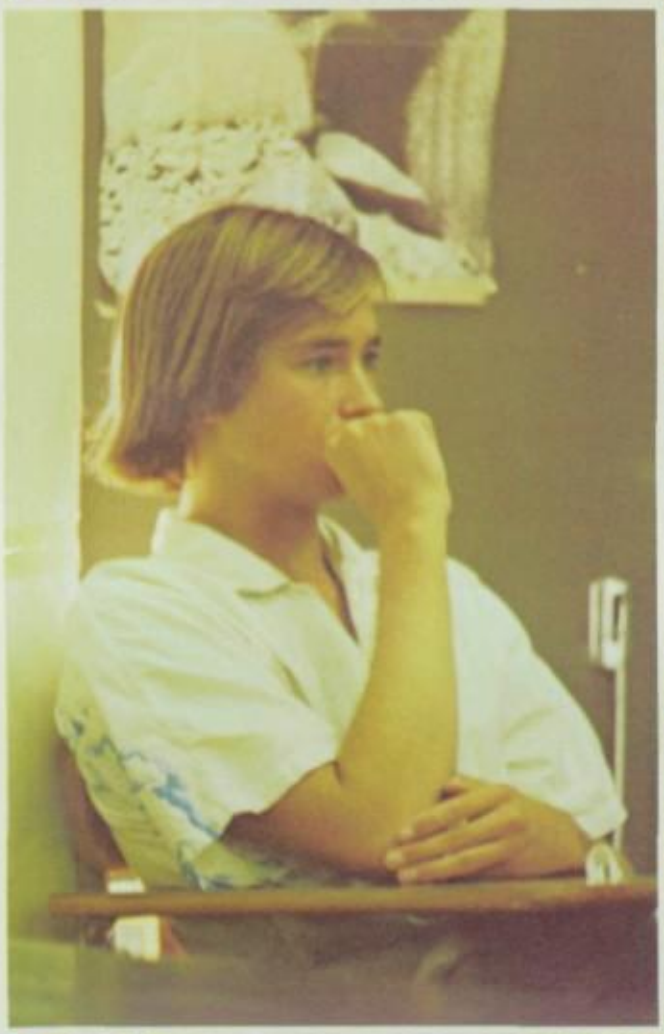
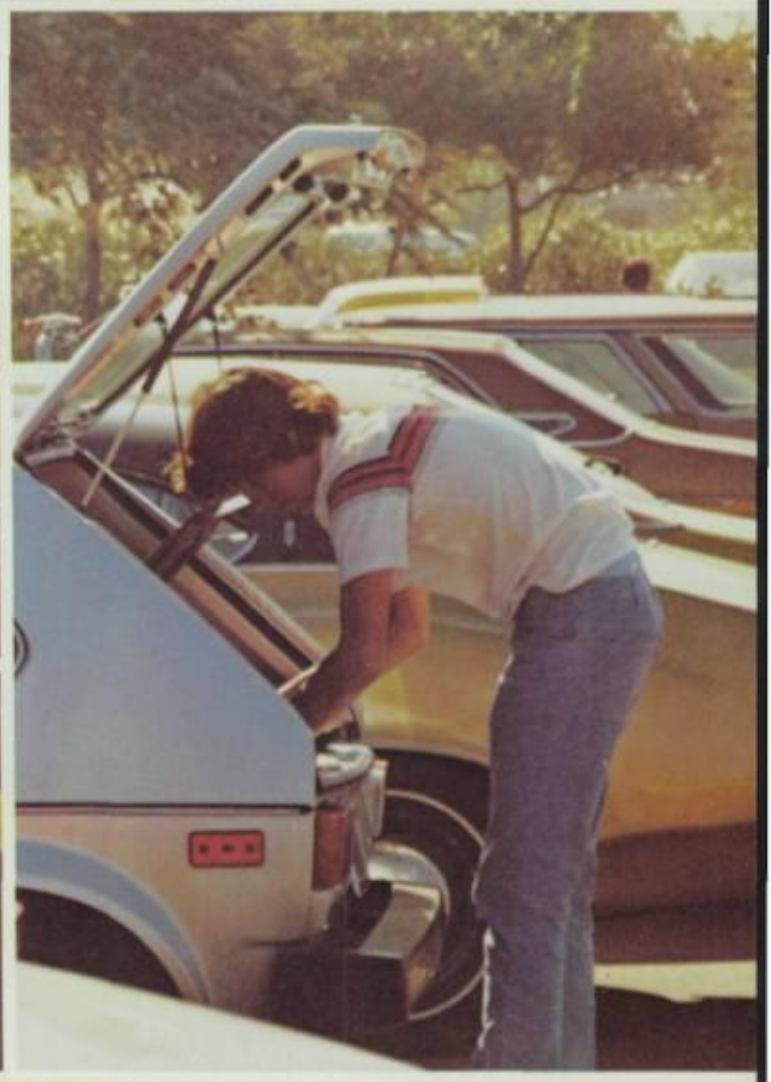
Seniors





My How We've Grown!?

The class of '79 was made up of 43 unique individuals, each contributing to the school in his/her own way. But despite this individualism, the class of '79 had unity and great leadership ability in dominating student government, girls' league, sports, homecoming, the yearbook and the newspaper. The seniors will remember and be remembered for:

Taking cuts in the lunch line (10 at a time) . . . USD . . . missing flag raising . . . symphonies and the theater . . . SAT's . . . leaving campus all the time . . . senior breakfasts . . . giving the Lancers a "lift" . . . applying to millions of colleges . . . being cool and groovy . . . 4 seniors in the Roman Republic class . . . Dr. Crone's office—absolutely NO underclassmen . . . "forgetting" to go to class . . . the largest senior class yet . . . Underclassmen

Class of '80 Positive

They study, they party, they drive cars, and they go to college reps, sometimes just to skip classes. They talk an awful lot, but they contribute enormously to the school's atmosphere. They are the Class of 1980!

Three new members have joined their ranks, strengthening the general enthusiastic, happy, positive mood which is an inherent trait of the class.

The junior year is always the most demanding and difficult for the students. Though there are the "close calls" with Fate such as nearly ruining one's G.P.A., there is the fun of experiencing life and its freedoms.

The Class of '80 is a secure, zealous and sometimes noisy lot, but they exemplify one of the best mixtures of ideals and feelings yet seen on Parker's campus.

Sophomores—
A Rowdy Bunch

The class of '81, made up of enthusiastic, rowdy, and gregarious sophomores, pushed their way through another challenging year.

Signs of their times included "lucky bucks," and active Spirit Week, and Student Council dances. Comprised of cheerleaders, football players, piano players, artists, comedians and all around "good guys," the 10th grade enjoyed the year to its fullest.

Spirited 9th Contribute

The Freshman class upon reaching high school became more mature. Having plenty of spirit, they contributed to high school activities for the first time.

They continue on a long and studious road. Each will follow it in his own unique way.

Among their memories as Freshmen are Mr. O'Rourke's jokes, school dances and trying to "make the grade" for their college transcripts.

Notorious 8th Enjoy Excitement

The notorious eighth graders take everything in stride, be it games night or running laps. Everything they have a part in turns into an exciting time.

The eighth grade is a time of change, when the pace quickens, the work gets a bit tougher, and new twists in old relationships occur.

But this group had its relaxation, too. One popular time was lunch when they trooped up to the front of the line "en masse." Lunch was followed by stickball, football, keep away, and nostalgic games like "Red Rover, Red Rover." Also, last minute cramming then often saved a test grade.

When asked, "Are you ready for Senior High?" eighth graders shout, "You bet we are!"

Seventh Graders Feel At Home

The seventh graders were a little surprised at the changes experienced at the upper school. They first realized how many more books they were lugging to class.

The seventh graders thought Games Nights were "really neat." A fun center for miniature golfing, a game arcade, and batting cages comprised their first one. Palisades Gardens was the scene of roller skating followed by dinner and dancing for the second. These were typical of the various types of entertainment they enjoyed.

By June they felt at home on campus.

Student Life

Student Government Works Progressively

The old crew, Barrie Berg, Pres., Karen Hirr, Vice Pres., Barbie Jones, Sec., and Karen Reavis, Rep. to the Board, returned in September and began rewriting the constitution. This administration succeeded in getting "Spice" and "Phenomenon" for dances, among other coups.

February's elections brought a new board headed by Karen Hirr, Pres., Lisa Mumby, Vice Pres., Jim Ilko, Treas., Tiffany Kemp, Sec., and Susan McKig, Commissioner of Publicity.

Plans were being made for a jogathon, a costume ball, and the Year-End dance at the Coronado Cays.

Jordanna Bloom, President; Anna Palmer, Vice President and Jennifer Iverson, Secretary-Treasurer were elected executive board members of the Junior High Student Council on October 21.

They planned games nights and other student activities.

Toward the end of the year, the junior high took a trip to Knott's Berry Farm.

Girls' Leagues Serve School, Community

The Senior High Girls' League goal this year was to be a service to both the school and the community. New programs were begun under the new advisor, Mrs. Barrett. Among them were holiday clothing and food drives and Career Day. A cookbook was compiled for Mothers' Day.

Traditionally, the Girls' League decorates the football field and the Lower School auditorium for Homecoming. This year was no exception with brown and gold streaming from the stands. The dance featured old newspapers and other nostalgia.

The 1978-79 board members were: Courtney Field, President; Laura Wolf, Vice President; Tiffany Kemp, Secretary; Chris Trepte, Treasurer. Class reps were Liz Gildred, senior; Lisa Mumby, junior; Allison Gordon, sophomore; and Jennifer Jenkins, freshman.

The Junior High Girls' League proved to be fun for both the officers and the 7th and 8th graders. They held a Halloween Party, sold candy bowls for Christmas presents and planned half of the games nights where peagreeners and cabbage-heads did everything from bowling to roller skating.

Their advisor, Mrs. Fisher, along with the board members: President Holly Hanafin, Vice President Kristen Jackson, Secretary Janet Hughes, and Treasurer Jennifer Ray worked hard to bring about a successful year. Accomplishing a next to impossible job of representing 57 girls were the class representatives Kristine Choconas, eighth grade, and Jamie Berg, seventh grade.

Homecoming '78 Has Spirit!

The day dawned bright and clear for Homecoming '78 on Oct. 28. The sun shone on the Homecoming court as Chris Trepte was crowned Queen with Jay Plaehn as her escort. The princesses were Pam Guiles and Laura Wolf, with escorts Steve Seiber and Scott Irving.

The crowning of the Queen highlighted the fun and fantasies of Spirit Week '78. The parade of costumes began on Monday with Western Day and continued throughout the week with Tourist Day, '50's Day, Movie Star Day, Carnation, and Brown and Gold Day. The traditional Pep Rally was presented by the cheerleaders Friday afternoon.

There was only one sour note in the week when Parker was defeated by Pacific Christian 40-6. This was the first Homecoming that Parker had lost in four years.

The loss did not seem to affect the mood at Parker's traditional dance that night. A record crowd of 160 people danced to the music of Phenomenon.

Clockwise from lower left: 8th graders garbed for Tourist Day; Tim Avilucea and "Mav" Herrill on Western Day; Head Escort, Jay Plaehn and Homecoming Queen, Chris Trepte; Steve Seiber and Pam Guiles.

ASB Boogies . . .

Boogie-ing to everything from SPICE to MICKEY RATT, dancers had a "PHENOMENal" time. Whether going stag or in couples, students turned out in capacity crowds.

The Homecoming Dance at the Lower School featured PHENOMENON, the most popular hard rock band. SPICE provided the entertainment for the Winter Dance held at the Town and Country Hotel. It is interesting to note that although SPICE is San Diego's top disco band, Parker students only wanted to hear hard rock sounds.

The annual girl-ask-boy Sadie Hawkins dance was enjoyed by a large crowd at the Lower School with MICKEY RATT playing the tunes. The Costume Ball was popular this year because a band, TEASERS, was featured for the first time. SPICE returned at the Year-End Dance held at the glamorous Coronado Cays.

And Enjoys Entertainment

Assemblies included mime Steven Banks in a return performance by popular demand, and a player from the San Diego Soccers.

Guest speakers were invited by individual groups. Mrs. J. Bronowski came to speak at a senior class meeting. A Mormon couple spoke to the junior class about the Mormon Battalion and Mormon influence on San Diego's heritage.

All the classes went to see ROMEO AND JULIET at the Loma Theater, and 7-8 grade classes went on field trips to city hall and the downtown library.

Language classes took field trips to sample various cuisines at restaurants in San Diego, and then put on a "Lingua-Faire" in March.

Middle: San Diego Sockers player demonstrates technique; Miss Payette blindfolds Jeff Jacquet for a game while Lisa Nothorn and Mrs. Fisher wait. VIEW Grows With Variety

The VIEW staff this year was the largest ever. Due to the large staff, the VIEW was successful in covering a greater number of students, activities, and sports. Student participation was promoted through letters, guest editorials, and polls.

New features such as "Dear Lenny" and individual coverages of each grade added spice to the VIEW.

Other innovations included the blue Christmas issue which was due to the paper shortage, but proved to be popular.

Again the students participated in the Journalism Education Association workshops and write-offs. At press time they hoped to bring home trophies as they did the previous year.

They enjoyed the annual pizza dinner with the CAVALCADE staff in June, where new members were inducted into the Quill and Scroll Society.

The aim of the CAVALCADE staff this year was to be innovative and to create new traditions for the yearbook. They succeeded with a full color senior section which is almost twice as large as in previous years. More emphasis was placed on girls' athletics. Besides the staff listed left, the following contributed one or two pieces of copy: Barrie Berg, Geoff Berg, Jordana Bloom, Monica Childers, Mrs. Corbin, Allison Gordon, Holly Hanafin, Nel Holstein, Jenny Iverson, Tiffany Kemp, Mr. Lipman, Susan McKig, Lewis Morgenstern, Laura Mumby, Dena Murray, Lisa Nothorn, Lori Roberts, Laura Russell, Katie Seiber, Rebecca Smith, and Chris Trepte.

SPECTRUM Features Liberal Arts

Amy Frank, Leslie Pearce and Julie Wahlen comprised the SPECTRUM staff. Mrs. Patty Barrett advised them.

The liberal arts magazine editors were looking for longer stories of at least a page. They welcomed poetry, artwork and photography from all classes.

Amy, Leslie and Julie did everything from typing to layouts. George Rains and Lori Roberts helped put the finishing touches on the publication.

Cum Laude Sets Academic Goals

Eric Allison, Barrie Berg, Beth Lavender, Katie Palmer, Nina Severance and Julie Wahlen were the members of the class of '79 chosen to be inducted into the Cum Laude Society. Their names were sent to the national organization in 1978.

The Parker chapter, which received its charter in 1978, is an active one. Under president David Russell, the group is making the Cum Laude values of honor, justice and excellence a part of the school.

Writing a constitution was their first task. Their goals of helping other students and setting up an honor code were incorporated.

The chapter members began a speakers' bureau. They hosted Rita Bronowski, widow of Dr. Jacob Bronowski, for a senior assembly. Dr. Dorothy Riggs of San Diego State University spoke about China. At press time they were planning more lectures.

A tutoring service was being set up so that advanced students could help those having trouble in specific subjects.

Another project was a college book for use by juniors and seniors filled with answers to questionnaires sent to former Parker students attending college.

Scholars Honored

The annual dinner recognizing top scholars was held at the University Club on Tuesday, October 5, for those who met 1977-1978 Honor Society requirements. Awards from the National Honor Society were combined with the first Cum Laude presentation.

Dr. Crone welcomed parents and students and stressed the importance of membership in the National Honor Society.

David Russell, guest speaker, spoke on the history, purpose and significance of Cum Laude.

Those recognized by both the National Honor Society and Cum Laude from the 1978 graduating class were David Bassham, Fred Blum, Ken Sulzer and James Whisenand. Members of the Honor Society from the class of '78 were Avi Dimenstein, Nasim Fares, Lisa Goehring, Judy Kincaid, Joth Layton, Patricia Marriott, Susan Peshel and Cliff Treais.

This year's senior class members commended by both the Honor Society and Cum Laude were Eric Allison, Barrie Berg, Beth Lavender, Katie Palmer, Nina Severance, and Julie Wahlen. Honor Society recipients were Jeff Cass, Anne Goodbody, Sue Greenway, Kristin Hobbs, Barbie Jones, Warren Jones, Carol Leonard, John Mansfield, Desiree Mitrovich, Claire Miyashiro, Karen Reavis, Wendy Samiljan, Kathy Steiner, Chris Trepte, Cathy Vafis and Laura Wolf.

Juniors inducted into the Senior National Honor Society were Donald Brandon, Greg Chlad, Ken Dewart, Karen Hirr, James Ilko, Maile Knudsen, Randy Laser, Leigh Ann Layton, Lisa Mumby, Leslie Pearce, Lori Roberts, Tony Ryan, Viki Salazar, Lauren Shumway and Dan Sulzer.

Commended sophomores included David Carson, Laura Crawford, Susanne Davies, Allison Gordon, Colleen Grubb, Matt Herrill, Roxanne Hon, Sandy Iverson, David McLean, John Mowery, Betsy Press, Marilou Quini, David Rivkin, Ted Tchang, Sara Vafis and Marc Wolfsheimer.

Freshmen inducted into the Junior Honor Society were Renate Adloff, Julianne Carlin, Cathy Denton, Charles Fares, Stephen Fisher, Amy Frank, Nancy Harrington, David Keely, Ed Keely, Ed Kreusser, Elizabeth Reid, Sue Rutherford, Joel Smith, Shellee Smith, Pat Styles and Shelley Warren.

At a later assembly, 8th graders honored were Stewart Bieler, Timothy Carpenter, Anna Emberton, Mary George, Jonathan Gordon, Stephen Harris, Penelope Holstein, Janet Hughes, Andrew Jackson, Suzanne Katleman, Todd Khoury, Jane King, Robert Palmer, Marites Quini, Caroline Randel, Jennifer Ray, Jonathan Rivkin, Amy Ryan, Jeffrey Shultz, Linda Shishido, Stephen Vafis and Amy Wexo.

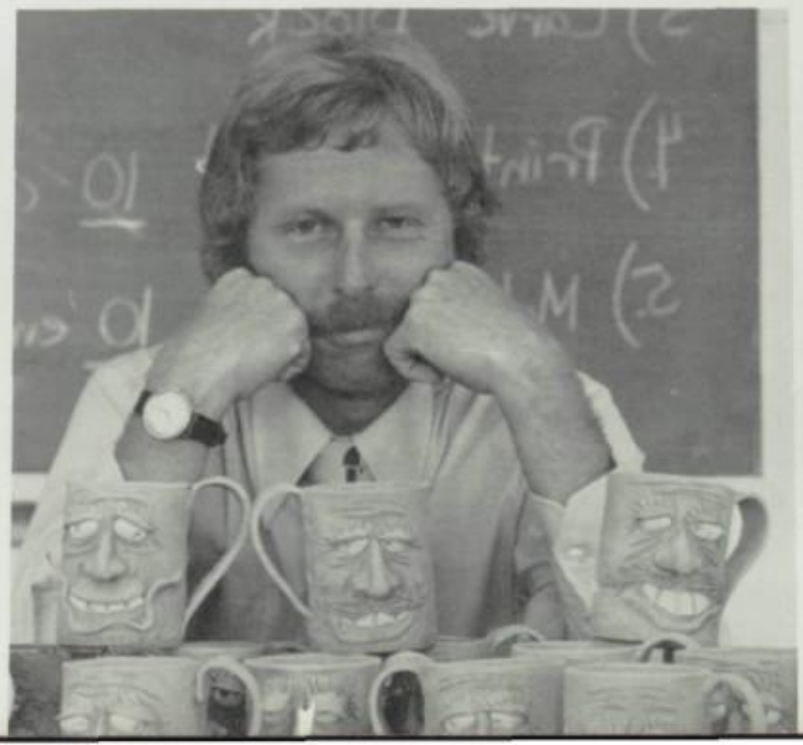
Elective Classes . . .

Electives became more individualized to meet the varied interests of Parker students this year.

A color printing process was added to the photography department for intermediate developers. First year "photogs" could work on black and white prints only, to perfect their skills. The class session was a question-answer period, with three people working each day in the dark room. Photo essays were the major projects.

The popular art class allowed for individual projects in addition to the usual pottery-making, silkscreening, drawing, sketching and Christmas card making. Sonny Adler made a lighthouse-shaped lamp out of clay. Mickey Ryan molded a two-foot beer mug. Mr. Giraud was as enthused as the students because each year they become more and more experienced and creative.

Roman Republic/Medieval Studies, the exclusive senior elective, was an academic survey class. First semester covered the rise of the Roman world to its demise, ca. 565 A.D. Second semester was a separate investigation of the Medieval world and its problems, ca. 600 to 1100 A.D.



Students Do Their Own Thing

Auto shop was consumer-oriented. Kevin Burke placed emphasis on "how not to get taken." Time was also spent on learning about cars and their engines. Toward the end of the year, body work was being performed.

Sewing was offered to all students to stimulate interest in making their own clothing. The class was based on the unit-method of construction, and Mrs. Ghironi taught basic sewing machine skills as well as ironing and hand work. Mary Wagstaff excelled in making everything from skirts to a bathrobe. Tim Avilucea was the only boy in the class, and enjoyed being outnumbered.

Woodshop had a new star, Greg Chlad. He made a matched pair of end tables, using assorted veneers and walnut. Other students constructed boats for the regatta. Mr. Cheskaty encouraged challenging projects such as furniture making. He would like to see more girls and upperclassmen turning out for shop.

Parker People in Action

Activities were not limited to the Parker campus. Mr. O'Rourke led some bike trips, and took part himself in the Tecate-Ensenada ride with other faculty and students. Outdoor lovers also enjoyed surfing, skiing, sailing and rowing.

A new and very active karate club was begun by Jerry Devine. The students learned self-defense and traditional karate as well as Zen philosophy. The dojo practiced formally twice a week and often informally on weekends.

Among the group's special events were a clinic for all Parker students and families, and a special tournament held in May. The club attended classical Japanese films and a formal tea ceremony called Cha-No-Yu.

Varsity Glows With Spirit

The varsity cheerleaders had a spirited year of new and exciting experiences. The size of the squad was increased to six cheerleaders, a change that seemed to symbolize the growth in Parker's spirit.

The girls began by travelling to Stanford for summer cheerleading camp, winning the coveted "Sammy" Spirit Stick for being the most spirited squad. Because of all the fun and the new friendships, camp became an unforgettable experience.

Their wild antics throughout the football and basketball seasons drove their advisor, Miss Brooks, crazy, but proved to be their own unique way of getting fired up. The varsity, along with the JV, put on a Homecoming pep rally filled with cheers, a lap sit and their original version of "Sybil."

Cheerleaders helped keep up morale when the Lancers were losing as well as winning. All in all, it was a wild, crazy and exciting year!

J.V. Leaps Into Action

The J.V. cheerleading squad had a hard time getting their act together at the beginning of the year. There was no J.V. football team, but the J.V. cheerleaders learned many tips from the Varsity squad.

The girls will never forget their first J.V. basketball game where they only knew three cheers. Or making cookies for the team and then eating them all themselves.

Katie, Dena, Cathy, Tiffany, Colleen, and Elizabeth maintained high spirits through the ups and downs of the season.

Top: Elizabeth, Cathy, and Tiffany show their stuff; Center: The squad—Elizabeth Reid, Dena Murray, Colleen Grubb, Katie Seiber, Tiffany Kemp, and Cathy Denton; Bottom: The group clowning around at Homecoming.

Volleyball Rules!

The girls' volleyball team came out on top winning the Class 1A CIF crown for the second consecutive year. Under new coach Mark Albers, the girls compiled an overall 19 and 2 record and were undefeated in league play.

The team was also able to participate in two tournaments at Poway and Hilltop High Schools. They made a good showing at Poway coming in fourth place. Success failed them at Hilltop where they were pitted against tough Metro-League teams.

Returning vets Jennie Smith, Lisa Cook, Madeleine Herrill, Pam Guiles and Katie Seiber starred on the court. Coming up from the JV squad, Colleen Grubb, Sara Vafis, Liz Gildred, Tiffany Kemp, Maile Knudsen and Anne Pavel demonstrated polish and confidence.

JV Spikers First, Too!

The JV spikers were full of winning spirit as they placed first in the Southern League.

Coach Libby Donnellon drilled the team throughout the season, changing them from an inexperienced group to a uniform team.

Captain Shellee Smith was honored as Most Valuable Player at the Sports Banquet on Dec. 6. Sue Rutherford and Elizabeth Reid were selected the Most Inspirational and the Most Enthusiastic Players, respectively.

Football '78: A Growing Season

With a minimal number coming out for football, Coach Ghironi classified this year as a rebuilding one for his club. They chalked up on win and six losses.

The poor turnout of players forced the cancellation of the J.V. program.

The team did have outstanding performances from individual athletes. Ted Davis was selected MVP and was winner of the Coca-Cola Golden Helmet award, presented to a most outstanding player who showed sportsmanship on the field.

Ken Dewart was chosen Best Offensive Player; Jay Plaehn, Best Defensive Player. Plaehn shared captain's honors with John Mansfield.

Optimism was the feeling as the Lancers looked forward to a more successful 1979.

2nd Year Stronger For Soccer Squad

"The best soccer ever played by this school," commented Coach Kevin Burke about the second half of the game played Feb. 8, at the Lancer home field. La Jolla topped Parker 4-0.

Marc Wolfsheimer and David Lipscomb finished the season on a high note giving excellent performances. The steady play of Jeff Cass, Richard Marsch and Bill Helwig combined to give LJCD strong competition.

This match wound up the second season of soccer at Parker. Though the record was 0-10, with the Lancers bowing to Army-Navy, Bishops and LJCD, spectators and players alike noted definite strides in performance.

J.V. Squad Clinches Title

"My most rewarding season . . . as a J.V. coach."—Coach Dave Glassey.

The J.V. basketball cagers finished strongly in league play winning 7 out of 10 games. A fantastic improvement continued all season as the team became more accustomed to playing together under excellent coaching by Dave Glassey.

Gabe Zatarain proved to be an indispensable offensive force all year, including a 26 point performance against Santa Fe. Gabe's spark on offense added extra spirit to the young squad.

Randy Laser and Dan Sulzer started every game for the cagers. They both played a sturdy impressive role from the start.

Team effort proved to a valuable concept throughout the season. Coach Glassey played as many as 13 cagers in a single game, and nine was the least number used.

Experience was gained by all in this rewarding season which was climaxed when the team clinched the Southern League title.

Under new head coach Dean Donnellon, a young Lancer team looked hopefully toward the playoffs. Comprised of five sophomores, three juniors and two seniors, Coach Donnellon built a young team into winners.

The Lancers won both tournaments they entered, Ojai Valley and the Parker Invitational. In both cases they were led by seniors Matt Crosbie and Steve Seiber. Crosbie's last-second shot won the Parker Invitational for the team and his consistent play throughout the year made him a strong contender for the Southern League's most valuable player. Seiber's consistency on the boards and shooting made him a prime candidate for the first team.

In the playoffs the Lancers met Borrego, and handily defeated them, led by Matt Crosbie's 27 points. By winning that game the team earned the right to play in the Sports Arena. At press time the team was confident that they would defeat Christian and regain the CIF crown.

Girl Cagers Shoot For CIF Victory

Dean Donnellon became the Varsity coach and John Cook, the JV coach, as the 1979 girls' basketball season began.

Katie Seiber, Colleen Grubb, Jennie Smith, Madelein Herrill and Maile Knudsen were the outstanding Varsity players, performing well in both offense and defense. JV's Angie Williams, Leslie Pearce, Laura Mumby, Lori Roberts and Jennifer Jenkins picked up the skills quickly, proving to be assets to the JV team.

At press time league play had not started, but coaches and players were looking forward to a good, strong season.

Coaches Proud Of 7-8 Sports

Coach John Cook was proud of the junior high soccer team, commenting that "everyone hustled on the field."

Todd Graham, Jeff Schultz, and Andy Hawes were top offensive performers. Coach Cook named Eddie Primeau "the most consistent player on both offense and defense." Steve Denenberg was the team's star hustler. Lauren Young represented the girls with fine style.

Their season ended with a record of 2-2-2. "The team never quit, never gave up," Coach Cook said.

"There have been stars in every game," boasted Coach Lipman of his 7th and 8th grade cagers.

During the season, Stuart Bieler and Stephen Harris displayed strong re-bounding and inside shooting; Mike Seiber and Jonathan Rivkin held the defense through their consistent penetration. Gar Millay kept the offense moving with his "fine unselfish passing." Dan DuPlessis, Andy Hawes and Todd Graham stood out as talented defensive players. Todd Khoury, Toler Goodwin, Eric Rindal and John Grubb provided the inspiration needed for a winning team.

Their season record was seven wins and three losses.

Girls Place 2nd In CIF Finals

A successful girls' softball season climaxed with a second place CIF ranking. The girls had been undefeated until their final championship game against La Jolla Country Day, whom they had beaten twice before in league play.

The teams they played included Julian, Mtn. Empire, Southland Christian, Christian High, Santa Fe Christian and La Jolla Country Day.

An outstanding performance was given by pitcher Sandy Iverson. Dena Murray, Katie Seiber, Leigh Ann Layton, and Suzanne Davies showed their stuff at the plate, as high scorers. Madeleine Herrill, Sandy Milstein, Seiber and Sherri McKinnon formed a strong infield.

Runs averaged in league play were 19.6. Nonleague games averaged 17.6 runs per game.

Varsity Prospects Were Good

The prospects looked good at press time for the varsity baseballers. In practice sessions they had defeated Marion and Fallbrook. With many of the starters returning, a shot at the cup seemed hopeful. The varsity performance insured a challenging season, at least, with heavy competition scheduled.

Who'll Pitch? —JV Problem

Although baseball is professed to be a team sport, if you don't have the pitchers, you don't have a team. Lack of pitchers was keeping the JV baseball team from having a good year at press time. But as league play approached, rapid improvements were shown in the pitching staff, with Bear Kreusser starting on the mound.

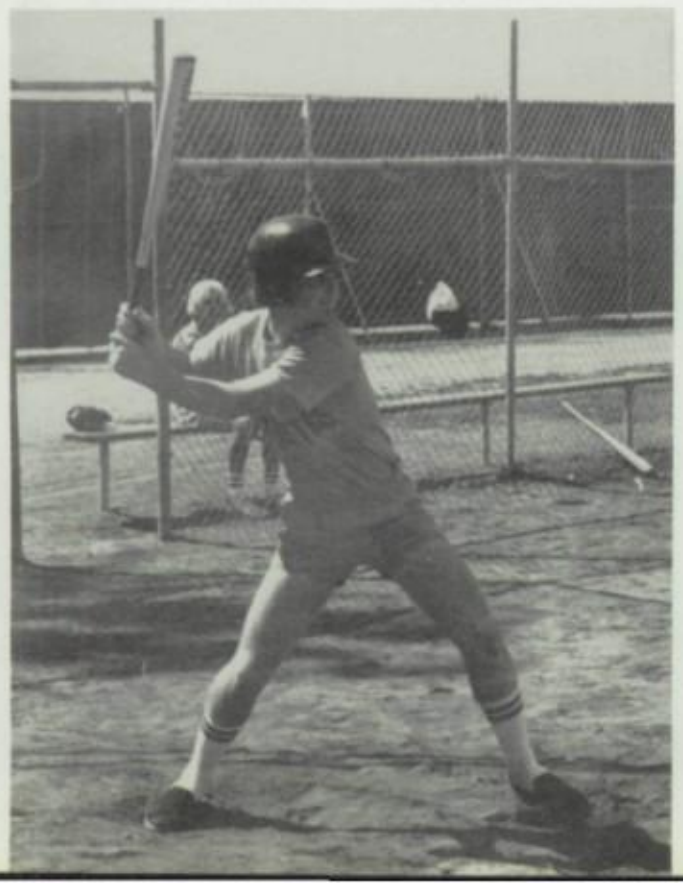
7-8 Vets Powerful

Ten 8th graders and four 7th graders made up the junior squad this year. Last year they went undefeated and this year they returned with a nucleus of veterans. Infielding veterans included Gar Millay, Todd Graham and Andy Hawes. The strength of the outfield lay in players Todd Khoury, John Martella, Steve Denenberg and Philip Adler.

The pitching crew consisted of Steve Harris, Will Kreusser, John Grubb, Philip Adler, Todd Graham and Gar Millay. Newcomers and fine prospects were Jon Rivkin, Mike Seiber, Denis Melle and Jeff Heikkila.

Standing: Coach Ghironi, Jon Rivkin, John Grubb, Todd Khoury, Will Kreusser, Stephen Harris, Andy Hawes, Gar Millay, Jaime Orwig. Kneeling: Jeff Heikkila, Todd Graham, Denis Melle, Steve Denenberg, John Martella, Philip Adler, Mike Seiber.



Tennis Team Climbs Ladder To Success

At press time, the following led the varsity tennis ladder: Jeff Adler, Maury Liwerant, Randy Wasserman, Tom Gildred, Anne Pavel, Marc Wolfsheimer, Don Brandon, Bill Corrente and Ted Tchang. Twenty people played on the tennis ladder. Top people played CIF opponents and other local schools.

At press time, the team was aiming at first place in the CIF Southern League.

It was Mark Giraud's first year coaching the tennis team. When he took some of the players to the lower school for practice, Assistant Coach Dione Brooks took over.

There was only one senior on the ladder, Randy Wasserman. Anne Pavel was the only girl.

Track Hurdles Into Spring

The thinclads were just starting to practice for the year's grueling track schedule at press time. Coaches Burke and Styles felt that the strong points of the tracksters were established as the season began.

Steve Carey, Viki Salazar, and Sara Vafis headed the long distance endurers. Laura Russell, Renate Adloff, David McLean and Matt Bradaric appeared promising in the sprinters' department.

Jay Plaehn and Pam Guiles headed the high jumping department. Jay also ran the high and low hurdles as well as being the only pole vaulter.

With so many thinclads turning out for track, the season looked good.

BEST WISHES FROM FM104

Jennifer Jane Ray,

This is going to be very formal. Oh that sounds stupid! How are you? Well I remember what you wrote last year all about are "friendship." Oh well you couldn't write a whole page on our friendship this year because it doesn't take that much room. In fact it could be said in 3 words - "not very good". I wish we could have gotten closer together but you and Jordana were really best friends so it was sort of hard for me to fit in with you ~~girls~~ guys. Well never mind I'm leaving and the years over anyway. Have a fun summer with a special certain person that lives on ~~Av~~ Ampudia St. for something 7. Get a better tan than "white" bod you totally now. Good luck next year as a hopefully ninth grader groovy

Love always,
Jane

Dear Jennifer,
Its really sad that are friendship did not work out. You are a very nice sweet person. May be someday we will be good friends again. But if not I want you to know that I will always be open for your friendship, if you ever need someone to talk, please come & talk to me. I feel like I don't even know you anymore but maybe someday, like I said before. Have a fantastic summer.

Love always,
Kristine

Jennifer, Although we've fought and fought I still like you a whole lot even though I may not act like it all the time. I really hope to see you in the summer. Please keep in touch. Have a great summer. You sure didn't over the summer. Well good luck with summer. Love always, Melinda

Jennifer, I had a neat time seeing you again this year in all of mag. and your classes. If you are down at the beach sometime let me know. Jeff

Jennifer, You're really sweet and I hope next year we are better friends

Love Laura

Jennifer you are really a sweet person and I hope you stay that way. Have a great summer. Love, Amy

Its been nice knowing you again this year, and I hope to see you next year. Maybe you'll be in more of my classes next year. You've been a nice friend, and have a fun summer.

Love,
Steve Vafis

Jennifer, your intent and enthusiasm inspired me. Thanks for sharing your hopes and dreams with me. I enjoyed having you in class. I hope you have a great summer.

Love, David

Jennifer, Does he light up your life. No names to protect the innocent

Love, Jason Bay

Jennifer,

Well, I finally got to know you this year and It's been great. If you have a chance get into Art and I'll be there and then we can get to know each other even better. Have a great summer at the beach and I hope you come back so I can see you again.

Love, David

Jennifer,
This has been a really fun year. We aren't that much of good friends as we were last year but maybe we can work on it next year. You are a very sweet person. Hope to see ya next year. Have a great summer, (maybe we can do something) Poop de woowee!
Love, ☺
Kristen Jackson.

Jennifer,
This has been a great year, and you've been a really nice friend, even though we had our fun (ha ha) and mammoth wars (ha ha) I will always remember that we were a great team. I hope we can have a great summer and I'll see you next year.
Love ya
Suzanne

Jennifer,
I'm glad we had science together so we at least had a little time to talk. I think you are a really sweet person. Have a great summer maybee I'll see you. Luv anna.

Jenifer,
It has been really fun being your lab partner. I'm glad we are friends
Have a super summer, and I'll see you next year.
Love,
Holly
P.S. thanks for being a Girlscout!

Jenifer,
I'M Really glad we go to the same school (again) Have a great SUMMER!
Love,
Elizabeth

Jennifer —
Having you in class was one of the things I truly looked forward to this year. You are a great student, of course, but also a lovely girl who is much loved and respected by everyone who knows you. Remember that! Please keep in touch.

Love,
Ms. 'B

JENNIFER,

GOOD LUCK WITH YOU-KNOW-WHO!! HOPE YOU SEE HIM OVER THE SUMMER (IT'S INEVITABLE!). GET TAN, BE RADICAL AND BE GOOD! I'M GLAD WE BECAME BETTER FRIENDS THIS YEAR, LET'S KEEP IT THAT WAY!!!

LOTS OF LOV!

TINER BENNER!

Jennifer,

This year has been pretty good it went by as fast as they say "time flies when you're having fun" well what kinda fun is what I'd like to do. You know like M.O. & F.O. and maybe F.F!! Anyway, how's you know who?! I wish you the best of luck with him cause you are a very nice person & deserve him. Life's great when you keep on losing weight & maybe we can play tennis sometime and totally munch-out. Oink oink

Later —

Lots of love

Marita

Jennifer,
It's been a great year you are really nice and I'm glad I got to know you better. Math was fun & we will have to do something this summer. See ya

Sheryl

It's Jennifer really I'm knowing you this summer for the to see you over last time I'll never forget you

Jennifer,
have a great summer, go to the Beach a lot may Be I'll see you there. got a nice tan like me!! It's Been an ok year even though we did not see each other very much But that's that. see you next year
Love Brett -

Dear Jennifer,
I really do miss our friendship. It was so fun shopping and things, but now you and Jordana are good friends so I'm sure that's good. We should

Jen-
I gotta continue this later OK? Jus' sec

Mrs.

Jennifer,
It has been a fun time talking with you at Parker. I hope you have a good time next year, and maybe I'll see you over the summer.

Love,
Andy

Jennifer,
I'm so sick of writing gaybalena things. But for you sugar lips I'll do anything. Let me suck your lobious ——.

Love
Jonathan

Jennifer, sorry about the teasing that I gave you the summer school heart attack. Have a great Vacation!

P.S. Have a look over mine.

P.S. Are you just morning for a little more? Hope to more of nothing and a lot of Love B.

Jennifer,

I don't really know how to put down everything I want to say to you. You are the absolute best friend I have ever had. We have so much uncommon but we are still different. I have never had a friend like you before and I know no one could ever match it. We've done so many fun things like Disneyland, Knotts Farrellas, parties and of course all the fun we had not going to U.T.C. boy I will never foget U.T.C. You know it is really nice to know that I have a friend whom I can trust and I can always tell my problems to. The only really nice thing about this whole school year has been our friendship and because of you I have many very nice 8th grade memories.

I only wish that I didn't flub everything up everytime we tried to go somewhere but I swear to you that during the summer we will get to UK at least once and we can find lots of cute guys.

NO NO NO NO

If you remember just one thing from 8th grade with one remember not to let people walk all over you. Jen you have everything going for you so stand up for your self and don't be so nice to the meanies of the World like El Oinky, Barracuda Phoney Talker, Slobber Mouth. Ok. You're pretty bright, artistic, sweet, funny and (H+S tho) well that's about all of the best I have left. (Just kidding). Thanks so much for a Horny, Marvy, grungy and Super year

Love Always,

Your Eternal Friend
